Dear Sirs:I subscribe to XM radio because only that way I enjoy traveling and listening to radio. I would not spend the money if another service came close. Please don't allow the empire builders and business bullies to damage a good service. NAB should be looking forward and innovate instead of cement old thinking. Isn't innovation what made this country great? The radio station system and the radio receivers are eons behind what Europe has to offer. Please tell the NAB that they should learn from there and come up with something good. Especially traffic reports are timely, interrupt other entertainment (if you choose so). When you leave one area the radio lets you know that you need to switch stations (better radios do that automatically). If you choose a countrywide station by name the radio switches to different transmitters as needed so that you can listen to your favorite station no matter what.

In all fairness: Shouldn't one business leave the other alone instead of wasting lawmakers time and tax payers money?

Kind regards,

Joachim Mueller
